

2nd Grade: Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Thomas

May 6, 2022

WOW! We are overwhelmed by your kindness and words of appreciation this week! We are so fortunate to be able to spend our days doing what we love with kids and families like you! Thank you!

*Thank you to all who helped make Colonial Day a fun and successful experience! What a great way to learn about the past by immersing ourselves in the dress and culture!

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!!! What a privilege, honor, and challenge it is! God's blessings to you all! ;)

Religion

The students have been working so hard on their Compassion Essays! We are so proud of them. Hopefully you are seeing the compassion in action at home, too! We will also read the stories about Saul's transformation and the rescue of Peter.

Reading/Language

We had fun reading the traditional tales this week, especially Stone Soup. We read several versions, and were introduced to the stage version that we will perform the last week of school. Mark your calendar! Next week we will wrap up the stories in our anthology with stories of historical figures. We will make comparisons of the past and present. In language we will finish with a review of adjectives, adverbs, and root words.

Science

We will finish our 2nd Grade Science lessons with a quick study and project about animal habitats!

Memory Work

Go into all the world and preach the good news to all creation. (Mark 16:15)

Spelling

seated, keeps, speed, seen, means,
clean, groan, roast, bowls, crow,
owe, grown

Math

Next up, x4 facts! We will be working hard on these because they will be tricky! If you can help your student memorize x3's and x4's this month (and into the summer), it will help for next year! We will also work on graphing on a coordinate plane and making change for $1.00.

Social Studies

What a great colonial day back in time! We will be returning to our book to wrap up the colonial times and Revolutionary War period. More details on an end-of-the book Jeopardy game and a test on Colonial Times. Stay tuned! We will end our year together by studying Lewis and Clark!

Spanish

The students rocked their Plant Unit Spanish Test this week! Our last unit will review harder food/fruit items and review colors and counting one more time before graduating to 3rd grade Spanish!

Teacher Tip!

The third graders presented their Wax Museum in the Commons on Wednesday. Our class was invited to view their presentations! What fun it is to get a little preview of some of the fun events to look forward to next year!
