February 6, 2022

Wow! I can't remember when I've seen so much snow on the ground at one time! The large flakes falling from the sky on Wednesday were beautiful! I know that the children were looking forward to playing out in the snow. What a beautiful season winter can be! I pray that everyone was able to stay safe and warm!

Religion

Families are a gift from God!

Memory Work

This week's assignment will still be the Fourth Commandment. We'll move each assignment back one week.

Math

We continued to practice adding two-digit numbers.

Day 100

We enjoyed some special activities on Tuesday. We weighed the 100 items that each child brought to school and put them in order from lightest to heaviest. Verity's perler beads were the lightest and Lane's crayons were the heaviest. We used tally marks to keep track of the words as we read I'll Teach My Dog 100 Words. The game Race to a Dollar was a big hit. We also read several Day 100 books. I'm glad that we didn't follow up with 100 inches of snow!

Reading

In Lesson 17 we are sounding out CV words with a long /e/ as in he and CVCe words with a long /e/ as in these. "Ee" and "ea" are vowel digraphs that say the long sound of /e/ as in keep and sea. "Nk" is a blend that we hear at the end of bank and "ng" is a consonant digraph that we hear at the end of ring. When we add an "ing" or "ed" to a CVC word, we double the last consonant before adding the ending - running. The test for Lesson 17 will be on Wednesday.

Grammar

We continued to identify past tense verbs with an "ed" ending - walked.

Science

We used sound to make a "secret message." When the message is sounded, the children know to stand up, march in place, or sit down.

Pizza Hut

Congratulations to Noah, Eleanor, Oliver, and Gregory for completing their 10 books for January!
